DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

2. Claims 1, 4, 5, 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable Yoshida, US006827641B2 in view of Martin et al, 2,735,249.

The applied reference has a common inventor and assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). This rejection might also be overcome by showing that the reference is disqualified under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) as prior art in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a). See MPEP § 706.02(I)(1) and § 706.02(I)(2).

3. '641 discloses the claimed invention, (see figures 1 and 2B and column 9, lines 20-32 and lines 57 through column 10 lines 5) but does not explicitly disclose that the core is porous. In a similar grinding wheel, '249 teaches providing a porous grinding tool with at least some surfaces coated with an impervious layer to prevent coolant waste. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to have provided '641 with a porous tool as taught by '249, column 3, lines 32-50 to allow coolant to be directed through the tool to the surface used for abrading.

4. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yoshida, '641 in view of Martin et al, '249 as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Feeley, '105. '641 as modified by '249 does not teach providing a grinding tool with embed glass fabric sheets arranged perpendicularly and axially to form an annular core body. '105, figure 1, teaches providing a grinding tool (see column 3, lines 7-11) with embedded glass fabric sheets, arranged perpendicularly and axially to form an annular core body, the body coated with an epoxy or phenol resin to bind the fabric together to form the tool. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to have provided '641 as modified by '249 with the glass reinforcing sheets as taught by '105, to provide a light weight, reinforced tool that can operate at high rotary speeds.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 6 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
7. Claim 9 is allowed.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-5, 7 and 8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Applicant's amendment has overcome the previous rejection under 35 USC 103. Please refer to the new grounds above.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
